

“Common Ground: Doing What Works” Theme of FAS International Conference in 2013

The Florida Adlerian Society is pleased to announce that “Common Ground: Doing What Works” is the theme for the organization’s 2013 conference. The 18th annual International Conference will take place Feb. 28 to March 2, 2013, at the Safety Harbor Resort and Spa.

The conference will include workshops and seminars on topics of interest to professional therapists, educators, parents, and anyone interested in improving their relationship skills. Safety Harbor is located a short drive from both the Tampa and St. Petersburg airports.

FAS is soliciting program proposals for the 2013 conference through Oct. 30. Submit proposals to Tim Evans via e-mail at Tim@evanstherapy.com. More details about the conference and registration information will be posted on the conference website at www.adlerflorida.org.

INSIDE THIS ISSUE

Page 2:

*Book Review: “Psychiatric Drug Withdrawal” by Peter Breggin
By Dr. Tim Evans*

*A Letter from the FAS President
by Tom Butts, FAS President*

Page 3:

*The Courage to Forgive
By Dr. Tim Evans*

Finding an Unexpected Friend in Eastern Europe

By Geri Carter-Evans

Tim Evans and I were recently invited to Latvia do a series of workshops with Inguna Griskevica. Inguna is a leading Adlerian psychologist who organized the workshops and translated from English to Latvian.

I had no idea what to expect from our trip, which took place Aug. 23 to Sept. 3, 2012.

For half of our visit we stayed in a quaint surfing and fishing village called Pavilosta, with Inguna and her husband Ronalds. We were greeted by their two beautiful girls, Alice and Petra, ages 7 and 5, and a friendly and very large dog, “Hary.” The family practices social interest, democracy and cooperation. Inguna is quite the hostess and cooked all our meals while we stayed with her.

(Cont. on Page 4)

Geri Carter-Evans is pictured above, (front row, second from right) in Pavilosta, Latvia, at a workshop on family relationships. In the photo at right, Tim Evans is in the front row, second from left, at a choice theory workshop in Riga. Adlerian psychologist Inguna Griskevica is in both photos, next to Geri and Tim, in a striped sweater.

