DANGER THREAT(S) DESCRIPTION: Domestic violence exists between the mother and father of two young children. There is a threat of serious physical and/or emotional harm to the child. There have been two known instances of domestic violence occurring in front of the children, both involving an open hand striking mom’s face. In one instance, the one year old child was dropped by the child’s father as he struck the child’s mother in the face. Another 3 year old daughter was a witness to both incidents, but not involved directly. It is alleged that domestic violence has been on-going for at least the last 2 years.
